CHANGE OF VENUE GRANTED ON AFFIDAVIT OF PREJUDICE.

OBJECTION TO F. C. GRANT

And James G. Flanders Participating in Trial Recorded in Petition of Wisconsin Co.

Attorney General L. M. Sturdevant and Attorney Mack of the Milwaukee law firm of Miller, Mack & Fairchild appeared in the circuit court chambers today to argue before Judge Dunwiddie an order to show cause why certain relief asked for on the part of the defendant in the action of the State of Wisconsin vs. the Wisconsin Telephone Co. in a petition annexed to the order should not be granted. But before the argument could be taken up the defendant filed an affidavit of prejudice against Judge Dunwiddie asking for a change of venue. The court granted the request and the trial and all the preliminaries will be conducted before Judge E. Ray Stevens.
Wants Counsel Ruled Out.
The petition annexed to the order to show cause which was to have been argued here after going on to state that the petitioner believes that private parties, including the La Crosse Telephone Co., the Rock County Telephone Co., and the Dane County Telephone Co., competitors, have instituted and are prosecuting and are causing the defendant to be prosecuted not for the purpose of benefiting the people of the state but for their own private purposes and are employing at their own expense and without charge to the state private counsel to appear for and prosecute to wit: James G. Flanders and Francis C. Grant, asks that the said attorneys and in fact all counsel other than the attorney general may employ under proper authority be not permitted; directly or indirectly to participate in the trial.
Origin of the Action.
The action against the Wisconsin Telephone Co. was instituted several months ago by the Attorney General on account of an alleged discrimination in rates prohibited by law as between the cities of Beloit and Janesville.

WRECK NEAR ARGYLE MAY BE SERIOUS

Washout on the Road West of Harvard Leads to Call For Wrecking Crew.

Early this morning a washout on the Northwestern line near Argyle, a village 9 miles east of Rockford, the train left Harvard in charge of Conductor Kipp and later a telegram was received in this city asking for the wrecking train and ties and material. It is not known whether or not the wreck was disastrous for word could not be received from that place as to its condition.

CRUEL TREATMENT A REASON FOR DIVORCE

Consequently Mrs. Clara A. Fawcett Wants a Divorce From Her Spouse.

Mrs. Clara A. Fawcett, formerly of Janesville, alleges in her bill for divorce filed in Milwaukee Saturday that her husband, Edward T. Fawcett, a former Janesville barber, smokes cigarettes, plays cards for money and has a habit of getting drunk frequently. Shortly after the marriage in Janesville on April 26, 1904, Mr. Fawcett began to treat his wife cruelly. It is stated in the complaint and threatened once to strike her with a chair. She further alleges that since May 13, 1904, he has not contributed a penny toward her support. Her husband is accused of running off to Canada with their child early last month and Mrs. Fawcett only obtained possession of it again when she called the police of Detroit and Windsor, Ontario, to her aid.

JOHN WILLIAMS IS WAITING RESULTS

Alabama Murderer Wants to Be Declared Insane, but Court is Obdurate.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 6.—The result of the habeas corpus hearing in the case of John Williams, which comes up today, is awaited with keen interest in legal circles as it involves the executive and judicial powers of the state that is without precedent. So far as Alabama is concerned, the habeas corpus hearing is to determine whether or not Williams is sane. Williams was convicted of murder and sentenced to be hanged ten days ago in Calhoun county. After Governor Jelks had declined to intercede with the execution, Criminal Judge Samuel Weaver decided that his court had jurisdiction to investigate the sanity of the condemned man. The highest legal opinion in the state is at variance in regard to the course of Judge Weaver, many holding; and among them Attorney General Wilson, the opinion that Judge Weaver transcended his jurisdiction in ordering a trial to determine the sanity of Williams, especially after the supreme court had affirmed the decision of the lower court.
An interesting feature of the case is the fact that Williams' undoubted insanity would have been executed on the day originally set but for accidental circumstances. When the officers came to take him from his cell Williams resisted them. This caused the party to miss the train. Williams' son took advantage of the delay and sued for a writ of habeas corpus, which was granted by Judge Weaver.

WHOLESALE MURDER IS TO BE REVENGED

North Carolina Family Killed in Cold Blood—Several Negroes Are Arrested.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Salisbury, N. C., Aug. 6.—A special from the Rowan superior court conveyed today for the trial of the four negroes accused of the murder of Isaac Lylerly, his wife and two children at Barber Junction last month. The accused negroes are Nease, Gillespie, his sons, Henry and John, and Jack Dillingham.
The trial doubtless will be a speedy one and the prosecution anticipates no difficulty in securing the conviction of all four of the accused. The prosecution relies chiefly on the story of Henry Mayhew, the 12-year-old grandson of the elder Gillespie, who told a circumstantial story of the crime, of which he was an eye witness.

WANT BULLETS WITH MORE POWER NOW

Government is Making Tests of New Style of Bullets for Cartridges.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Springfield, Mass., Aug. 6.—Bullets which are lighter and more pointed than those now in use are being tested at the government armory here. The new bullets have much flatter trajectories than the old type, and consequently are more efficient against advancing enemies. On a 1,000-yard range the lighter bullet passed through a screen at the 500-yard mark at an elevation ten feet lower than the bullet now in use. It is believed that for a distance of 700 yards out of 1,000 the lighter projectile is capable of damage, while a heavier bullet would pass completely over the heads of the enemy for a much greater proportion of the distance. The heavier bullet is admitted to be more accurate and thus better for sharpshooters. The test to determine the comparative merits of the pointed and blunt forms have not been completed.

NORTH DAKOTA TAKES TO TENNIS JUST NOW

Grand Forks the Scene of Spirited Contests of the Tennis Association.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Grand Forks, N. D., Aug. 6.—In both the number and class of its entry list the annual tournament of the North Dakota Lawn Tennis association, which opened on the town and country club courts here today, compares favorably with similar tournaments held in other sections of the country. Owing to the number of events to be contested the tournament probably will last through the week. There will be championship events in doubles and singles, together with the Red River valley championship. For the last named event a $500 silver cup is offered, the trophy being the most valuable ever offered for a tennis event in the northwest. The entries include the foremost tennis players of Minnesota, Manitoba, the Dakotas and other sections.

CHICAGO BANK CLOSED AND THE CASHIER IS MISSING

Milwaukee Avenue State Bank Shuts Down This Morning—Warrants Are Issued.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Aug. 6.—The Milwaukee Avenue State bank closed its doors today. Henry W. Hering, the cashier of the bank, is missing and a warrant charging him with embezzlement has been sworn out against him. State Bank Examiner Jones has issued a statement to the effect the whereabouts of the three officers of the bank are unknown to him and the bank is without an official head. The bank is one of the largest outside of the downtown district. The closing of the doors followed a run on the institution caused by a report that one of the bank officers had absconded. For a time the run assumed proportions of a riot. Paul Stensman, who is in St. Paul, is president. The deposits are said to amount to three million dollars, largely the earnings of working people. The news of the suspension spread rapidly and soon several smaller banks in the vicinity were besieged by depositors.
Seven Hundred Thousand.
The Daily News says: "It developed today the Milwaukee Avenue State bank had been looted to the extent of $700,000 and this amount of bogus notes was found. It is stated by a member of the clearing house committee and the trouble was first revealed by the president of the bank himself."

IOWA DEMOCRATS ARE ALL VERY PEACEFUL TODAY

Eve Of The Democratic State Convention Brings Out No Startling Developments Of Friction.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Waterloo, Ia., Aug. 6.—It is anticipated the attendance at tomorrow's democratic state convention will be very large. All the veteran workers of the party are here and a conference will be held today to agree upon a tentative program as to the ticket. The leading candidates for governor are George W. Ball of Iowa City, Claude Porter of Centerville and John D. Denison of Dubuque, but for other places on the ticket there has been little talk. There is no factional alignment visible on the ticket or platform.

STANDARD OIL MUST EXPLAIN THE REBATE

Special Federal Grand Jury in Chicago Begins to Investigate Everything.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Aug. 6.—The special federal grand jury which convened today will make a sweeping investigation of the Standard Oil company's methods of transporting its products. A large amount of evidence has been gathered by the government's legal aids, under the personal direction of Attorney General Moody, and this will be presented to the grand jury. Several important pieces of evidence have been added to that taken before the grand jury at Cleveland a few weeks ago. It is believed that the whole forms a complete chain of evidence against the Standard Oil company and some of its high officials which the government prosecutors hope will lead to indictments and prosecutions under the anti-trust law. The proceeding will be based upon deals between the company and railroads for the handling of its products; and the charges made for the same as compared with the rate fixed for independent concerns. There will be also evidence concerning alleged discrimination in the matter of storage charges in favor of the oil company. A number of high railroad officials are among those who have been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury and testify.

DR. THOMAS MAKES LONG BALLOON TRIP

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Norfolk, Conn., Aug. 6.—The big balloon, Nirvina, carrying Dr. Julian P. Thomas of New York and a professional aeronaut, which ascended from a point on the East river, New York city, shortly before nine o'clock last night, landed its passengers in the middle of this village at 5:45 this morning without mishap after one of the longest flights ever taken by a passenger balloon in this country. Dr. Thomas was compelled to land to get water. After filling the tanks the balloonists again rose and sailed off in an easterly direction.

POINTED QUESTIONS ABOUT THE PLANKING

May Be Asked of Several of the Aldermen at the Council Meeting This Evening.

Tonight the city council will hold its regular meeting. Bids for the painting of the Racine streetway paving of the Jackson street bridge will be considered and the street assessment committee will report on the letting of the contract to James Ryan for the grading of the several streets in Forest Park. It is rumored that several of the aldermen and city officials will be questioned by some of their fellows as to the disposition of the plank which have been taken off the Jackson street bridge to make way for the new decking. These plank belong to the city and are needed for the flooring of the storage building near the city hall but it is reported that they have found their way to private premises.

CHAUTAUQUA IS ENDED; PROGRAM FOR NEXT YEAR

MANAGER HOLBROOK MAKES PROMISES OF THE SPEAKERS.

NINETEEN-SEVEN PROGRAM

To Be Far Superior to the Present Season's Although All Plans Are Not Perfected as Yet.Nineteen hundred and sixty persons attended the closing day of the Janesville-Chautauqua Sunday. Already the session has passed into the yesterday, the campers are making ready to leave, the big tents are being taken down and the little city of a week's duration is scattered to wait until Nineteen-Seven, when it will reassemble. Already Manager Holbrook has begun making his promises for next year's program and upon the strength of his statement that "Billy Sunday would open the course, the return of John B. Ratto, the impersonator, Miss Goodwin Mil-long as it is what it professes to be.
What God has given you make the best of, so the world will be just a little better.DR. WATSON'S ADDRESS WAS FULL OF JESTS AND HUMORRev. Dr. Watson the afternoon
speaker gave another of his enjoyable lectures. It was filled with pleasant little jests and humor, but the undercurrent was sincerity. His little interpretations of character were humorous, but the foundation struck the depths of the heart and the Janesville people can congratulate themselves on having had the services of so eminent a speaker. Mr. Watson is in himself of a sociable nature and his pleasing wit and good humor makes you feel at home with the character. He is of a sympathetic nature and on such a topic he dwelt his thoughts and he said in part:
"When Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes was asked where he drank his inspiration for his works he replied that it was from nature's own book, in the brotherhood of man and sisterhood of woman. Nothing can be done without his knowledge. The world's largest brother is the one that best understands the brotherhood of man. We cannot build a glass house large enough to hold a man's influence of such a spirit. We should not ask what is their color or nationality, but what have they doneof the Japanese and Russian war.
The Change.
"Looking back 42 years we see the difference in opinion of the negro:
He received no encouragement from those that had set him free, but now the light has changed and the world is watching to see what he will do for humanity. The negro has, and is entering doors now never opened for him before and show they have a strength of character that it fully developed will accomplish much. There are philosophers who say the negro is too thick to comprehend the rapid advancement of American learning, but there are hundreds of American negroes today who talk and read several languages. The negro has not only been taught Greek but Latin. I am here to state that there is no loyalty point in our American civilization to which the negro is incapable of attaining.The Environments.
His environments have had a great deal to do with his slowness and in-comprehensibility. The negro is a descendant of the great builders of the ancients and we can trace back for thousands of years to places where he has shown himself to be efficient and trustworthy. He is capable of holding the responsibility of the 20th century and has always been willing to take up arms in protection of the American interest and liberty.
He has the same qualities found in the white race and the only difference

THE BOAT LANDING AT THE CHAUTAUQUA GROUNDS.

and what do they stand for. Peabody was rich, not only in money, but in sympathy with the poor and his good work among that class will be long remembered. He did not reach down into his pocket and bring forth a silver coin, but sent what was needed with a heart that brings sympathy along with it. He killed selfishness and made the way easy for those of poverty. I think him the greatest unlearned king that ever lived. The good work of John Ruskin will also be long remembered, so it was his thought that music and nature will accomplish more than a straight jacket, or iron, to let the prisoners know that there are people of sympathy who are willing to help them. If they are willing to help themselves.The Old Maxim.
"As we mete it out to others so shall it be meted out to us. Great things can be accomplished by the help of a little sympathy. Burns of all men is known not only in his own native country but the world over for his sympathy and love of man. Those that are hungry shall have food and those that are thirsty shall have drink. I hail to the societies of our country for the interest that has arisen in them for sympathy and sociable feeling. Henry George has done much in the uniting of this feeling. There are no people who fully realize this bond of feeling more than the Quakers. If the blue were to be picked to pieces, taught and learned, a feeling of sympathy could not be found which could be attained in any other way. There are men whose greatest pride is to help others and many boys have been taken out of the slums and put in the field of activity
by them.Pride.
"There are other men whose greatest pride is that they have never had a fall, but pride in itself of never falling is a fall itself. (Here Mr. Watson told a story in the German accent to prove his point. The story in itself was humorous but hit the point at which he was aiming.) We must not only protect the tariff of the clothes we wear but we must protect the men that wear them as well. There are things which politics cannot rule and in time of danger
the power of humanity is felt more strongly as the determination increases. Beyond the church, the pollucian, the platform and the altar stands man and beyond him God who is always watching and looking out for our welfare. We are to be one as God and Christ were one. We are brothers and sisters of a mighty kingdom and all in unity if not in the same thought and likeness.

DIXIES GIVE EXCELLENT CONCERT IN EVENING

The evening program was opened by a sacred concert by the Dixies who again made themselves equal to the occasion and gave one of the best programs given during their stay here. The evening talk was given by W. C. Buckner and chose for his subject, "The Searchlight Turned On." The subject in itself had to do with the negro question, and Mr. Buckner clearly demonstrated that he was thoroughly acquainted with his subject and its problems. He spoke as follows:
"The negro question
has of late been more fully discussed. W. C. BUCKNER.than ever before. The Americans are beginning to see that they have made a great mistake in the negro question. The searchlight has brought forth the suffering and individuality of the colored race

PECATONICAS IN SPLENDID FORM

WON BASEBALL GAME FROM THE JANESVILLE EAGLES.

Visitors Solved Jones' Curves and Hutchinson Took His Place in Fourth Inning—Large Audience.At the fair grounds yesterday afternoon, before one of the largest audiences of the season, the baseball team from Pecatonica decisively defeated the Janesville Eagles by the score of 9 to 2. The visitors put upWERTZ' GREAT ONE-HANDED was the bright particular star. His long run and one-handed catch of a difficult fly in the fifth inning brought down the gallery. Three errors by the Eagles in the first inning permitted Pecatonica to score three runs after two men had been put out.

Three more of the visitors crossed the home plate in the third inning and a run in the fourth and two in the fifth made up the total of nine.
Two-base hits were made by Anderson and Sanders of the visitors in the third and Anderson in the eighth.
Hutchinson in the Box.After the third inning when the visitors seemed to be solving Jones' curves too freely Hutchinson took the former's place in the box and Hill

The Eagles made their two runs in the first inning. Connors' two-base local rooters were destined to rejoice over during the afternoon. Thereafter

ning—did more than three Janesville players got to bat in an inning. The detail of that inning was interesting.
Jones got his base on balls. Carle reached first, sending Jones to second and Connors lined out, a fairly good hit. It was not good enough, however. Jones was put out on third and the ball was sent back to second in time to catch Carle, who overslidCARLE OVERSLID SECOND AND

THE WHITE DOE OF ROANOAK ISLAND

Quaint Indian Tradition Based on Virginia Dare of Lost Colony."The White Doe of Roanoke Island," a poetical tradition of the south, based on many of them are, on Indian legend, takes dramatic form today.
The "White Doe," which led the herd of deer on Roanoke island until it was slain by a silver arrow, was none other than the bewitched spirit of Virginia Dare, the first white child born of English parents on the soil of North America. "Had Raleigh's colony on the island remained there until white men had obtained a permanent foothold on American soil, Roanoke island and not Jamestown would be very properly regarded as the cradle of the American nation.
But Raleigh's colony vanished entirely from human view and with it Virginia Dare, who, according to legend,
was afterwards transformed by witchcraft into a beautiful white doe, which roamed for a time over the island and as the leader of a herd of deer."
The history of Virginia Dare is short, dramatic, mysterious. She moved for an instant across the page of history and disappeared into the abyss of time. After two unsuccessful attempts at colonization by Raleigh's adventures on Roanoke Island, another colony came from England in 1587 and landed on the island. This became the famous lost colony, and the name of Virginia
Dare is linked with it forever.
Among those who formed this colony were seventeen men and women and nine children, who came with the intention of making permanent homes. Among the women was Eleanor Dare, daughter of John White, the governor of the colony, and the wife of an assistant governor. A few days after the landing of the colony a daughter was born to Eleanor Dare and being the first white child in Virginia—as thewhole country was then called—this baby received the name of Virginia Dare. She was baptised on the Sunday following her birth. The facts of her birth and baptism have been officially recorded and there is no doubt whatever that she was the first white child born of English parents in North America.When Governor White returned to England, leaving the colony on Roanoke Island, it was agreed that they should leave word clearly indicating whether they had gone. Those who came later to the island from England found the word Croatan carved upon the trunk of a tree and nothing more. The little band, with the child Virginia Dare, had disappeared forever from the ken of man.When the facts of history became merged into Indian legend, gradually assuming the form of the tradition of the "White Doe," which has survived for three centuries and bids fair to outlast history.The legend is somewhat complex and more difficult to tell than are the cold facts of history. Its themes are love and jealousy and sorcery. It tells how the infant Virginia grew into a fair maiden who was beloved
and sought after by the Indian braves,
the rest of the lost colony being entirely eliminated from the narrative.
It tells how the beautiful maiden was through the rage of a rejected lover, transformed by sorcery into a white doe, which as all the world knows can only be slain by a silver arrow.
Hence for a time the white doe bore a charmed life. The true lover, however, finally discovered magic superior to that of the wicked sorcerer and the maiden was restored to human form. True love, alas! triumphed but for a short time, and the lovely Virginia Dare who had been the white doe was cruelly slain by a silver arrow sped from the bow of a persistent chieftain who had long pursued her. Whether Raleigh's Roanoke colony was lost, slain or absorbed by the Indians will probably never be known. The legend of the "White Doe" would lead to the conclusion that belief in the survival of a part of it was strongly embedded in the Indian mind.

You are neglecting your business if you are not advertising in the Janesville Gazette.

The Milwaukee Free Press would defeat Babcock and Minor. Why?

As far as can be learned, no one has been appointed postmaster at Beloit as yet.

Janesville politicians are breathing easier owing to the fact the last day for filing nomination papers is past.

The nineteen-six Chautauque is over. Now for plans for next year to make the gathering larger and greater than ever.

Illinois had a primary election Saturday that resulted in the selection of Shelby Cullom for the United States Senate again.

Janesville is being so rapidly improved it will be a shame if the travelers on the Madison Interurban do not have an opportunity of inspecting it.

Lenroot has headquarters in Madison and Senator La Follette tells the people who to vote for. Where are all the benefits of the much-vaunted Primary Law?

The Edgerton Reporter takes some hot shots at Congressman Cooper, saying that he now lives in Washington and visits in Racine for a few weeks every summer.

It is time to money and money talks lots of the people in this world are deaf and dumb, but it is noticed usually the man who has no money talks more than the man who has.

One sea captain to whom were entrusted hundreds of lives blundered and death and devastation followed. Those who go down to the sea in boats truly see the wonders of the deep.

Milwaukee and the rest of the state are to be united in closer bonds of railroad connection than ever before owing to the campaign of instruction the Milwaukee Journal is carrying out.

The Milwaukee Journal takes repeated digs at everything that does not savor of Lenroot. For a democratic paper which is continually taking the trouble to advise republicans the Journal fills the bill to a T.

When a man becomes a political beggar, seeking every office at the gift of the public that it is possible for him to hold, it is time to turn him down and turn him down hard. This begging game is getting to be tiresome.

Scandal-mongers have been busy for the past week trying to defame the character and actions of a prominent city official. When the council gets down to cases on the subject they will find the greater part of the matter was pure guesswork by trouble makers.

Only three county contests will interest the public very much at the republican primaries next fall: for sheriff, for four candidates running, for district attorney, one two, and for clerk of the court, two. Of course the democrats have candidates for these offices, but for the last decade they have not counted, even their own official mouthpiece refusing to recognize that they placed a ticket in the field for several days after it was decided to do so.

JUST OUR REASON

The Milwaukee Free Press in this morning's issue publishes the following words of caution to the voters of the state regarding their vote for congressmen at the coming primaries. "It is so exactly the reasons why the Gazette is advocating the nomination of Thomas S. Nolan that it is repeated below." Mr. Nolan answers all requirements that are asked by the Free Press, consequently he should be nominated.

Wisconsin needs in congress men like these who can be depended upon to support a president like Roosevelt in his efforts to secure a square deal—to break up the corrupt trusts and to bring to justice the "big" men who defy the laws of the land.

DR. ROBERTS

The sudden death of Dr. E. D. Roberts in a Chicago hospital on Saturday comes as a shock to his intimate friends and acquaintances. Taken in the prime of his life he leaves behind him a record for efficient service as a public officer, both for state and city, that may well be envied. In his death the state loses an efficient official, the city a good citizen, and his wife and daughter a loving husband and father. Dr. Roberts was a man with many friends, all of whom sorrow with his immediate family at his sudden demise.

ANOTHER YEAR OF PLENTY

Six months ago it was said that only crops that should, in volume and quality, be at least "par and interest" would save us from the penalties of our own folly and wrong. Well, the crops are "par and interest," the wheat crop certainly, and barring accidents which now appear to be improbable, the corn and cotton crops as well. With prime agricultural conditions promising results far above the average of former years, with a certainty of an active foreign demand for our surplus, and with a foreign exchange situation which gives us, for the rest of this year, apparently, command of the international movement of money, we have a right to draw a long breath of relief, and say that whatever the danger may have been, this country has escaped it, at least for another year.

In the security which the rich products of the earth afford us it would be folly to disguise the plain fact that we have passed through a crisis in our financial history that contained elements of possible disaster. For eight months the business of this country has been skating upon the thin ice of inadequate banking credits. But somehow the ice held us and we have reached the shore of another year of plenty in safety.

As we look back upon the events of the past fiscal year, remarkable as it has been in material prosperity, we have reason to congratulate ourselves that we are not now suffering from reaction and perhaps even collapse. The exposures of gross wrongdoing in the administration of insurance and other corporations, the socialist attacks upon wealth, the agitation of railway rate regulation, the readjustment of financial administration made necessary by the new relations of the government toward the corporations, the arraignment of the Standard Oil, the beef trust, and other great organizations of capital before the bar of public opinion, as well as before the courts of the land, the inadequate supply of capital to carry on the extended operations of business enterprise, the growth of the dangerous land boom, the upheaval in Russia and the fear of its effect upon the French holders of Russian securities, the terrible San Francisco disaster which wiped out in a few hours hundreds of millions of dollars of wealth—these have been some of the developments of the past year which have seemed to many to threaten impairment of confidence, the frightening of investors, the withdrawal of capital, the fall of the security markets, and finally a reaction in trade and commerce. The disclosures of our misdeeds, the measures taken to reform them, and the unprincipled efforts of political agitators to make use of the legitimate social discontent to inspire hatred of wealth and promote a crusade against the right of private property, united to make an ominous situation.

For months a spirit of apprehension has been abroad in the markets, which has been increased by the depression in stocks and bonds and the attitude of some of our leaders of finance. We have taken counsel of our fears, so that even in the midst of an unparalleled prosperity we have looked for the signs of panic. But now in the face of superb agricultural conditions and of a monetary situation, protected by our hold upon the gold chests of Europe and by the strength of the treasury position, it would seem as if we might with confidence face the new fiscal year.

This affords freedom for confident enterprise, but gives no carte blanche to speculation whether in land, or mines or stocks. It would be easy, indeed, for us to waste our substance and destroy our strength if we should plunge recklessly into a speculative orgy. This is no time for pessimism, nor is it a time for forgetfulness of past offenses and present problems. Our recent fears were well founded, and it is not due to us, but to a bountiful nature, that they are not realized. Our "par and interest" crops have saved us; they have given us the practical assurance of another year of activity and plenty, but they have not given us the right to deal recklessly with a situation surrounded by many difficulties and confronted with many problems. We have still got to be careful with our capital, so as to make it do the work which the tremendous expansion of the country has put upon it. We must still be careful to adjust ourselves to the new rules of business and conform to the principles of a square deal. We must remember also that the political situation in this country is still one of grave import to business interests of the United States. It still divides itself into two parts: first, the legitimate demand of the people for the reform of abuses and the establishment of a more equitable competition; and second, the socialist attack on wealth. The presidential campaign of 1908 with all its discussion of the questions of property, of wealth, of corporations, of tariff, may be said to have already begun, and it is a campaign that is likely to try men's souls.

PRESS COMMENT

Other "Profits" Without Honor

New York Tribune: The trusts demonstrate that many a profit is without honor in its own country.

He's Do the Talking

Washington Star: President Roosevelt continues to call his advisers about him at Oyster Bay in order to give them good advice.

Warned in Time

Chicago News: Mr. Bryan is going into the Chautauque lecture field next summer. The managers may as well begin enlarging the tents.

Phenomenon and Explanation

Milwaukee Journal: The St. Croix Observer, that used to be a red-headed Half-breed, is sitting on the fence now. Its editor is seeking office.

No Sir-ee

Racine Journal: Sawyer county must look after its own insurgents, the governor declining to order out the militia for one man and his family.

A Good Game to Watch

Milwaukee Sentinel: Those two astute gamblers, Messrs. La Follette and Connor, sitting down at opposite sides of a table to a game of politics should develop a contest worth watching.

Hardly the Accepted Impression

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Reports from New York indicate that Mr. Bryan has allowed himself to be branded as a conservative just at a time when his party will not even tolerate a maverick.

Assuredly a Barbarian

Sheboygan Journal: A Fond du Lac auto driver was found the other day for sending his machine through a funeral procession. His manners would indicate that he hailed from Tomahawk lake.

Braved the Delavan Doughnut

Rockford Register-Gazette: Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson is a hero in peace as well as in war. He lunched on a doughnut and a bottle of pop while waiting for a train at Delavan, Wis., the other day.

His Hearty Support Pledged

Exchange: W. R. Hearst completed the organization of his Independence League yesterday and then sent a telegram to himself expressing appreciation of his services and pledging himself to support himself for governor.

No Sacrifice Too Great

New York Tribune: A young woman called a house where a maid was wanted. She asked the mistress of the house if they had any children, to which she replied that they had five. "Then I can't work for you," said the girl. "Oh, do stay," said the woman. "We will kill the children."

More Interference Impending?

Waukesha Freeman: Now, candidates for the legislature are called upon to indicate whether they are in favor of giving the state, by statute, the same power to regulate street car lighting and telephone companies that the state has asserted over the steam railways, and whether they pledge themselves to vote for such a law.

Merry Old War Is On

Exchange: "Politics," remarks the Marinette Eagle-Star referring to the state situation, "is in such a muddle that the old-time stalwarts may even sigh for the comparative quietude of past campaigns." In other words the Marinette paper evidently believes the "Half-Breeds" and "Quarter-Breeds" are going to have a hotter time of it this year than even the old war between the two original factions.

Uncle Isaac's Attitude Diagnosed

Wausau Record: It is a suggestive fact that it was shortly after his interview with Isaac Stephenson, that Senator McGillivray's letter of withdrawal followed, a - of which leads the old politician to believe that our Uncle Isaac is quietly but surely accomplishing the defeat of Senator La Follette, whom he has so strenuously and successfully backed both politically and financially in the years of the past.

Almyra Didn't Shoot

Oshkosh Northwestern: John Dietz now denies that his daughter Almyra fired a single shot during the recent fight with the deputies, and adds it is a good thing for the latter she did not, for she is a sure shot with a rifle. The story of the elder Dietz is probably more entitled to credence than that of the deputies, for the latter were generally so scared that they were unable to get a straight account of what really did happen.

Boldness of Byron Castle

Fond-du-Lac Bulletin: If Byron J. Castle, who for many years has been among the staunchest friends of Senator La Follette, can campaign over the state in opposition to the senator's choice for governor without saying bitter things that will enrage the senator and his friends, Mr. Castle will demonstrate that he has been made over. There are few public speakers who have a sharper, a more bitter, a more stinging tongue than Mr. Castle.

Has He Heard a Voice?

Whitewater Register: At last the editor of the Elkhorn Independent has his feet on solid ground, he knows what he wants and it is "Lenroot for governor." He admits that there are some other very good half-breeds, even Governor Davidson, but his period of tremor and twitter has passed and he is now for Lenroot. He has heard a voice and obeys. The independent man is like Artemus Ward's kangaroo, "an amosin' little cuss."

As Between, Etc.

Beloit Free Press: Mr. J. J. Cunningham of Janesville, member of the democratic central committee and chairman of the Rock county democratic committee, has announced his candidacy for congress. He will contest with Stewart of Kenosha for the democratic nomination. Efforts were made to induce Editor Monar of the Recorder to become a candidate, but he declined to be persuaded. As between Cunningham and Stewart, Rock county democrats will have no hesitancy in choosing at the primaries.

Beet-sugar in Mexico

Evening Wisconsin: An interesting sugar enterprise is looming to the south of us that will have a bearing on the Mexican trade in the saccharine products. It is announced from Salt Lake City that a number of Utah beet sugar manufacturers have secured the exclusive right to manufacture beet sugar in the Republic of Mexico. Under the terms of the concession, the investors will build at some suitable point in Mexico a plant to cost not less than $500,000. They will have two years within which to submit their plans, and five years after this for the construction of the factory. They are also given the right to select, free of charge, public lands in the republic not otherwise occupied, for the purpose of establishing beet farms. The property is to be free from tax for a period of ten years, and all the necessary equipment from the United States is to be admitted free from duty.

These concessions to the American capitalists are very generous, and if the calculations of the sugar men as to the capabilities of the Mexican soil for beet raising are well based, the Utah sugar men ought to be remarkably successful. It is said that the soil and climate of the upper valleys of Mexico are all that could be desired for the growing of the sugar beet. Moreover, the beets can be planted and harvested during any month in the year, and by a continuous system of planting, cultivation, and harvesting a factory can be kept in operation all the year around.

With a climate favorable to continuous operation, and with cheap peon labor to operate a sugar plant, the Utah investors ought to be able to give the Mexicans their sweetening at rates much lower than could bring profit for similar enterprises on this side of the Rio Grande.

Those "Queer Chautauquians"

New York Tribune: From all over the West, and especially from those characteristic and influential gatherings known as Chautauques, come reports of speeches and lectures by men of national reputation in science, literature and especially in politics and religion, or, at least, religious thought. All of these gatherings are modeled more or less after the famous New York Chautauque, from which they take their name, and from which they derive their original inspiration. There are schools of learning, philosophy, religion, and patriotism combined with the allurements of shady groves, boating upon lake or river, tennis, and in fact, all summer sports and pastimes, the latter, however, being relegated to their true place and subordinated in interest to higher pleasures and higher ideals of living. Of course it is easy, and especially easy for the city born and bred, accustomed to the glamour and fascination of the ceaseless round of gayeties and the sense of touch with the best there is in the theatre, opera and other forms of urban pleasure and intellectual interest, to sneer at these gatherings where the participants, even in their summer outings, take life more seriously than do the corresponding classes in the cities. For instance, at one of these Western Chautauques—that at Hastings, Neb.—we read that Senator La Follette talked for three hours and a half the other day to an audience of eight thousand persons, passing in review during that time a series of the legislation of the recent session of congress, and naturally expounding his own well known theories as to rate legislation and other matters.

It may be admitted that it is rather difficult to turn an audience of eight thousand New Yorkers, moved by no general impulse except that of personal improvement, listening thoughtfully to Senator La Follette, or perhaps to any one else, for three hours and a half of a summer day, but an attempt to make such a comparison will show not a few points in favor of the Hastings audience. There is something impressive in the earnestness of character and breadth of intelligence which go to make these "queer Chautauquians" courses of the West to which a contemporary referred the other day. Such men as Senator La Follette, Vice-President Fairbanks, Justice Brewer, of the supreme court, and many other men of prominence are frequently among the speakers at these courses, and men of corresponding leadership in the pulpits of the university and of the par are also to be heard at the Chautauques scattered all over the West.

These men are invited to speak before these intelligent and earnest audiences, not to exploit themselves, or to further their ambitions, whatever they may be, but because the people wish to form their own opinions at first hand of them and to hear them present the causes or themes with which they have become identified in the public mind.

The ball game at Footville Friday, Aug. 3, between the Milton Crescents and Footville White Sox was attended by a large crowd who were very much disappointed in the Crescents' conduct during the game. In the last of the seventh inning late White Sox had three men on bases and one man out when the Crescents refused to play on account of a decision made by the umpire which looked to be a fair one by the majority of the onlookers.

Willing and Rote have started their threshing machine.

Miss Calla Lacey is entertaining a young lady friend from Chicago.

Miss Nellie Canary is visiting relatives in Baraboo and Fond du Lac.

The White Sox went to Lodi last Saturday and defeated their strong team in a ten-inning game by a score of 10 to 9. The line-up being as follows: J. Eraser, c; W. F. Clark, p; E. Eraser, 1b; W. Owen, 2b; A. Nolt, 3b; F. Trevorrow, ss; J. Canary, lf; J. Torpy, cf; F. Gardner, rf; F. Bemis, sub.

The dance for the benefit of the ball team Friday night was attended by 52 couples.

EVANSVILLE

Evansville, Aug. 6.—Byron Andrews of Washington, D. C., is here visiting his mother and sisters. He has recently returned from a trip through Italy.

Mrs. Stella Acheson and daughter, Lola, are home from a two weeks' visit with relatives in Beloit.

Geo. Blunt, who was at San Francisco at the time of the earthquake, called on his mother and brothers here Thursday, being on his way from Chicago to Texas to finish the season in acrobatic work.

Mrs. Jennie Glidden is slowly recovering from a severe illness, having been taken ill while visiting Del Glidden and wife at Brookings, S. D., and was unable to continue her journey onto Northville, S. D., to visit her sister. As soon as she was able to stand the trip, her daughter, Mrs. May Libby, who accompanied her on her western trip, brought her home.

Miss Lake of Chicago is a guest of her grandparents, M. Lake and wife, Leslie Reckord, of Beloit, spent Sunday at his parental home. He was accompanied by a young man friend.

MANY MOURN FOR EVAN D. ROBERTS

HIS DEATH A SHOCK TO WHOLE COMMUNITY.

GOV. DAVIDSON IS COMING

To Act as Pallbearer at Funeral Services Which Will Be Held at 10 A. M. Tomorrow.

Tidings so unexpected and shocking as to seem incredible, even when confirmed beyond possibility of a doubt, reached Janesville at an early hour Saturday evening. They stilled the light word on the lips of hundreds of citizens and seemed presently to "enthral the whole city in a mantle of gloom." Death is the mysterious factor with which all must reckon and the realization of this comes home all the more poignantly when the strong vigorous man who spoke the cheer word or gladly undertook to perform the neighborly service but yesterday, the brave, sturdy fighter in life's battle, the friend who was trusted and held secure, is suddenly no more.

Premotion of the End

Some premotion that he would not survive the operation which Drs. Harsha and Wiggin were to perform at the Lakeside hospital, Chicago, seemed to have taken possession of Dr. Evan D. Roberts before he departed from Janesville last Tuesday night. He spoke of his fears to a few of his intimate friends and they scoffed at such forebodings. The operation for double hernia which had caused him some discomfort for several years, promised to be a very simple thing—a matter of a few weeks in the hospital. Nevertheless, acting on his own vague misgivings, he arranged to close all his accounts with the world. And afterward, when his satchel was opened and his effects examined it was found that he had arranged even the details of his funeral, naming the place and minister and those who were to act as his pallbearers.

Good Reports—At First

He went to Chicago on Tuesday and his wife followed him there the next day so as to be at hand on Thursday, when the operation was to be performed. During that night and the following day there were no symptoms to indicate that the physicians' work had not been a complete success, but on Saturday morning the patient became uneasy and complained of feeling very sick. It was subsequently learned that paralysis of the bowels had set in. A second operation was under way and Dr. Roberts was under the influence of the anesthetic when he breathed his last about seven o'clock Saturday evening.

Friends Hurried to Chicago

The message to Dr. George Little, who was associated with the deceased in the veterinary profession, reached this city about eight o'clock and upon learning of the contents City Marshal William H. Appleby, Victor P. Richardson, Geo. D. Simpson, and United States District Attorney, W. G. Wheeler, made immediate preparations to depart for Chicago on the 4:55 a. m. train. After their arrival when everything possible had been done for the comfort of the bereaved wife and daughter, it was found necessary to change the first plans of taking the remains direct to the old home in Frankville, near Racine, owing to the fact that directions that services be held in Janesville had been found among the Doctor's effects. The pallbearers he named were Grant U. Fisher and M. R. Osburn, with whom he was associated in several business enterprises; William H. Appleby, Governor James O. Davidson; David Zull of Whitewater, and P. Robertson of La Crosse.

Funeral Services Tomorrow

Accompanied by the sorrowing family and friends the remains were brought to Janesville on the 9:15 train last evening. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning. Rev. James H. Tippet will offer a prayer at the home at 9:30 a. m. and there will be services at the Carthage Methodist church at 10 o'clock. The city fire department and members of Oriental Lodge No. 22, Knights of Pythias, will attend in a body. Governor James Davidson has wired that he will be here on an early train tomorrow morning. After the services at the church the remains will be taken on a special car attached to the 11:20 train to Frankville, Wis., where interment will be made in the family lot.

Story of a Successful Life

Dr. Evan D. Roberts was born Jan. 17, 1862, in the town of Frankville, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Roberts, still reside. Besides his wife and daughter, Ethel, there are two brothers—David and Louis—living in Waukesha, and two sisters—Mrs. Margaret Baker and Mrs. Mary Ellis—residing in Thompsonville, Wis. He graduated from the Chicago Veterinary College and came to Janesville to practice about eighteen years ago. In February, 1901, Robert M. La Follette, the then governor, appointed him state veterinarian and he was able to render the state such signal service as to merit and receive two reappointments. His indefatigable efforts to stamp out the tuberculosis scourge among the cattle of the state have attracted widespread attention and the most favorable comment and death has come to him just at the finish of one of the most laborious and exacting campaigns of his kind he had conducted during his career in the office. In addition to his work for the state, which kept him away from home a large portion of the time, he maintained a local practice and was financially interested in the Rock County Concrete Stone Co., the Silica Brick & Stone Co., and the Dr. G. Roberts Veterinary Remedy Co. of Waukesha. He had been a member of the Pine Police Patrol since 1896 and was appointed a member of the city fire and police commission about a year ago. In the halls of Oriental Lodge No. 22, Knights of Pythias, in which organization he took an abiding interest, he will be sorely missed.

Influential in Politics

Dr. Roberts was a good citizen. He was ever ready to take an active part in any enterprise in which the welfare of the city was concerned. His courage and executive ability were a large asset not only to his undertakings but to the La Follette cause, which he championed in politics. It should be said of him in this latter connection that though he was a good fighter he cherished no personal animosities. His friends were legion. He made new ones wherever he went and retained the old ones. Along the road of life he was ever finding and taking advantage of opportunities to do favors for those whom he liked. The unique place he filled in this community cannot be filled.

Mrs. Catherine Conroy

At the home of her son, John, 313 Hanover street, Milwaukee, Mrs. Catherine Conroy passed peacefully away Friday morning, August 3. The remains were brought to Janesville over the C. M. & St. Paul railroad at 10:25 yesterday morning and taken directly to Mt. Olivet cemetery for burial and laid beside a son who preceded her to the world beyond thirty-three years ago. Catherine Freeman Conroy was born in Roscommon county, Ireland, in 1834, coming to this country in 1856. A husband and five children, all of whom were present at the funeral, are left to mourn her loss. M. J. Conroy of this city, John P. and William R. of Milwaukee, Matthew of Whitewater, and Mrs. William Briggs of Port Atkinson.

William Wallace Strong

After an illness which lasted nearly three years death occurred to William Wallace Strong at the home of his sister, Mrs. E. B. Daves on North High street yesterday morning. Deceased was born near Cleveland in the year 1843. The remains will be taken to Marshall, Wis., tomorrow morning for interment.

Mr. Mathews has had several years' experience in the several branches of railway service. R. H. Lee of the freight department succeeds Mr. Mathews as storekeeper in the local storehouse.

A Bright Idea

The promotion of the drama, like everything else must be accomplished through original methods. Originally it is said to play a prominent part in the production of Elmer Walters' novel play, "For Hearn & Hearn," which is to be seen at the Myers Grand Tuesday, Aug. 7, with a good company. The play is said to have a "Way Down East" flavor, though bears no resemblance in lines or characters. The introduction of a quartette of well-bred dogs is one of the many pleasing features promised.

NASH"BILLY" SUNDAY MAY BE INVITED TO COME TO CITY

May Be Induced to Hold Six-Week Revival in Janesville This Winter.

Yesterday afternoon at the Chautauque grounds Mr. Holbrook made the announcement that if the people of Janesville were interested in the proposition of getting Mr. Sunday here for a six-weeks revival meeting he would see that he was obtained. Mr. Sunday's time, four years ago the ministers of the city united and tried to get Mr. Sunday to give a course of revival meetings here, but they were unsuccessful and about three months ago it was tried again and Mr. Sunday has announced his willingness if the people of the city will build a $2,500 tabernacle for his lectures, the property of which would become the churches of the city to dispose of as they saw fit after the meetings. Mr. Sunday says that if inside of two weeks he does not have the money out of his own pocket, it was moved by Mr. Bennett that Mr. Sunday be invited to spend six weeks in

He Defends "Outlaw" Baseball

Noted Minneapolis Diamond Critic Also Criticizes Big Leagues.

Says Members of National Commission Must Surely Be Self Interested.

"The organized baseball of today is nothing more or less than a clever plan by which the players are held in a semi-bondage, sold, bought, traded and trafficked about like a lot of prize steers at a country fair," says "Dutch Uncle," the celebrated Minneapolis baseball authority. "The player is subjected to all sorts of rules, regulations, and creeds, but has little or nothing to say about his own affairs. He is sold out of minor into major leagues or from major to minor and has nothing to say. He can pack his grip and go or get out of organized baseball."

"Every agreement has its foundation or should have its basis in equity. There is about as much equity in the average baseball contract as in the proceeding wherein the strong arm, in the alley gets the watch of the wayfarer citizen. The 'cit' gives up the watch or gets a clout in the head. The ball player gets up and does as his masters demand or he gets out of organized baseball."

"The high court of baseball rests in the national commission. This is made up of league presidents and club owners—interested parties to almost every dispute that comes up. These men may try as best they can to be fair in settling all disputes between clubs and players, but self interest or the interests of league or friends must have some influence in their decisions. The men would not be human did they not waver toward the side in which their interests and friendships are vested."

"The only way to overcome this condition of affairs is the appointment of a national commission, the members of which have nothing to do in baseball, no financial interests at stake, and let them decide cases purely upon their merits."

"The howling of 'outlaw' at the Tri-state league is like the barking of a pit-terrier at a mastiff. This league goes ahead, attends to its business and pays its club owners good salaries. Because the club owners do not care to come in under the rule of the national commission, and sign the national agreement, the self-appointed press agents in this organized settlements pour hot shot into the league, its officers and players."

"The outlaw league is a good thing for baseball players. It keeps the organized forces from ruling the game with a sway as arbitrary as that of a czar. It affords players a place to go when they get tired of being traded around like cattle. The league pays good salaries. Its sportsmanship is just as high, if not higher."

"Baseball has become more or less of a competitive business proposition, and under this rule the 'outlaws,' so called, have just as much right to do business as the 'organized' forces. They furnish a market where players may sell their services at a high price. It makes competition for men and keeps the salary cutting ax suspended. In a great many cases, without a heavy fall."

"The backers of the 'outlaw' clubs are not 'perverted sportsmen,' and the players are not all disgruntled ones. This designation by the 'organized' organs is another case of the wish fathering the thought. While they may not blow about it from the houseposts, the 'outlaw' league has the friendship and moral support of eight out of every ten of the players now with the 'organized' clubs."

"Outlaw" Ball Players. Baseball clubs under the national agreement will have nothing to do with outlaw players unless considered the property by reserve of some club in the organization."

The Roundup By Willie West

Broadside of Sporting Hot Shot—Matters Pertinent and Personal.

A certain district attorney in an eastern state not long ago headed a movement to put a stop to trotting racing in his country. In a close game one afternoon against Butte at Butte one of the Butte players hit a long foul fly to left field, and the dead arm man went in pursuit of it. The field was lined with carriages, and near the foul line stood a buckboard to which were hitched two wild mustangs. As the dead armed ball player came tearing along after the foul the mustangs got scared and started to run away."

The dead armed man caught the ball, and the runner on third base started home, loitering along, knowing the fellow couldn't throw him out. The dead armed man after his jumping catch kept right on, and before he could stop he collided with the runaway buckboard and fell clear over into it. The runaway dashed across the field. The base runner dodged to avoid them, and the dead armed man, leaping from the buckboard, tagged the runner on the line and completed the double play."

Grif also has a grizzly bear story, but that is too tall to tell. Somebody might doubt it."

Both the National and American leagues are going to quit business next year because the English people say the game is really too noisy, don'tcher know, ever to be popular over there in Britain. That criticism by the cricket loving Brits is the worst blow struck at the great American pastime since the day Harry C. Pulliam was made president of the National league."

P. S.—According to a few Americans, cricket is played indoors under the name of chess."

Captain Jack Dunn of the Providence (R. I.) team of the Eastern League recently ran headlong into a flock of troubles. President Harry Taylor suspended him for nine days and fined him $100, and Umpire Moran beat a drummer's tattoo on his face with both fists. "All I did," avers Jack, "was to pull Moran's nose for giving the worst decision I ever saw." Poor abused Jack! His friends hope President Taylor will soon be done doing Dunn as he has done. For Dunn is doing Moran. The players aver that it was Moran and not Dunn that did the doing."

SLAYER PLEADS TO BE KILLED

Begs Officers to Give Knife or Revolver to Commit Suicide.

Vineland, N. J., Aug. 6.—Nicholas Bertl, aged 39 years, a well known resident of this city, was shot and instantly killed Sunday by Alexander Cordella, a prominent farmer living near this place. Both men had been to a party and Bertl accompanied Cordella to the latter's home. Near the house the men quarreled.

Cordella went to the barn, secured a shotgun and killed Bertl. Cordella fled and took refuge in a vineyard where he was found by detectives. He confessed to having shot Bertl, but said he did not want to hang. "Give me a knife or a revolver," he pleaded, "and they can bury me at the same time they do Bertl."

Some of Bertl's friends tried to take the prisoner from the officers and there was a free fight in which several men were hurt. The officers finally succeeded in getting their prisoner in the jail.

ACCIDENT ON GREAT NORTHERN

Broken Journal on Engine Tender Causes Wreck in North Dakota.

Grand Forks, N. D., Aug. 6.—A Great Northern passenger train bound for Winnipeg was derailed near Manvel Sunday morning, a broken journal on the engine tender causing the accident.

Every car left the track, which was torn up for a distance of 300 feet. None of the passengers was killed or fatally injured. Those seriously hurt were: H. H. Crawford, of Negehe, N. D., ankle crushed; M. F. McQuay, New York, side bruised; H. E. Croft, Minn., shoulder injured. A dozen others received slight bruises.

VICTORY FOR SENATOR CULLOM

Indications are He Has Carried Illinois Primaries by 40,000 Plurality.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 6.—Additional returns on the advisory vote for United States senator confirm the earlier reports and indicate Senator Cullom's plurality in the state may be conservatively estimated at 40,000. Senator Cullom's plurality in Cook county is 10,000. The returns show that he not only will have a plurality of the popular vote in the state, but that he has carried 41 out of 51 senatorial districts. Some of the districts which on the face of the returns have been carried by Yates are his by small pluralities and may be thrown into the Cullom column by the official canvass.

Moreover, Senator Cullom appears to have complete control of the state convention for the purpose of state constitutional instructions. Yates has lost the popular vote in the state at large, he has lost four-fifths of the senatorial districts and he has no chance to secure instructions in the state convention.

Deputies Kill Engineer

Council Bluffs, Ia., Aug. 6.—Ed Youncker, a Great Western engineer, recently from Joliet, Ill., was instantly killed in a pistol duel with several deputy sheriffs at Lake Manawa, a summer resort near here, Sunday. Youncker's wife and two children were witnesses of the tragedy.

Statue Found Husband

A Chicago woman prayed for 15 years before the plaster image of the saint interested in such matters for a husband. Her faith finally failed and she threw the image out of her window. That did the business. When the man with the broken head opened his eyes it was to gaze into those of the unwilling spinster. She nursed him back to life, married life.

THE characteristics that have made Blatz Beers world-famed are an invariable feature of each brand. Whether your dealer offers you Blatz "Wiener," "Private Stock," "Export" or "Muenchener," you will be sure of a beer that's brewed for quality along either Bohemian or Bavarian lines by the Blatz Process.

Wiener BLATZ-MILWAUKEE

And it's this very process that's the answer to the much talked of Blatz Character—that "peculiarly good taste." All of the fundamental and essential elements of honest brewing are only the "setting" on which is built Blatz Individuality. If you're a lover of draught beer—keg beer—you should cultivate the "Blatz Sign habit."

Bottled Blatz is available, or should be, in most first-class places. Ask for Blatz Private Stock.

Suffered for Vanity's Sake.

When a woman was missing some time ago her relatives published a detailed description of her. It contained this description: "Small toe of each foot missing." As it was very unlikely that both toes had been amputated by accident, some one asked the woman's mother to account for the lost toes. After a gallant effort to evade the question the old lady reluctantly confessed that her daughter had had the toes severed to enable her to wear very small shoes.

FATE OF STRIKE IN THE BALANCE

SUCCESS OF MOVEMENT MATTER OF GREAT DOUBT.

RAILROAD MEN AT WORK

Leaders Hesitate About Issuing Call for Tie-Up, Fearing Desertion on Part of Followers, Who Fear
to Infringe Law.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 6.—The fate of the general strike, which, although it has affected close to 70,000 men in St. Petersburg, has met with only slight response in other sections of Russia, probably will be decided with an adverse expression of public opinion.

The lack of union among the leaders of the proletariat organizations is playing against the success of the movement.

The railroad men, upon whom the success of the entire movement depends, are still working full time. The leaders of the railroad organizations are hesitating about issuing a call for a tie-up. They fear being deserted and discredited by their materialistic followers, who are no more responsive to the avowed pretext of this strike, namely, sympathy with the mutineers of Sveaborg, Cronstadt and Reval, than they were to the similar reasons given for the abortive strike of last November. The railroad men have been intimidated by the recent making of strikes affecting communications penal offenses. The laws providing severe punishment was enacted with direct reference to general strikes.

Workmen's Deputies Threatened.

The council of workmen's deputies, which met secretly at Terioki, Finland, continued its session till a late hour Sunday morning. The deputies were so incensed at the timidity displayed by the railroad men that they decided to resort, if necessary, to the blowing up of bridges and the destruction of the roadbeds, etc., to bring the transportation service to a standstill. Representatives of all the revolutionary parties and emissaries from Moscow, Kiev, Riga, Odessa and other cities were present at the meeting. The telegraphers thus far have been appealed to in vain.

Break in Strike.

The first break in the ranks of the St. Petersburg strikers occurred Sunday, when the printers decided to return to work. The employees of several street car lines and river ferries have resumed work.

A steady downpour of rain all day long prevented the open air gatherings scheduled for the day in St. Petersburg, and the consequent possibility of collisions and disorders. The day was without incident except for the departure for Cronstadt of the Eighteenth naval equipment. There were a large number of drunken men among these sailors.

Telegrams from the interior throw little light on the manner in which the country may be expected to respond to the call for a strike. There has been no cessation in the number of robberies and murders in the interior.

Poles' Action Important.

The government attaches much importance to the declaration of the Poles in the Minsk congress against the principle of expropriation and in favor of acquiescing in the dissolution of the lower house and preparing for new elections. This action is regarded in administrative circles as almost equivalent to the withdrawal of the propertied classes of Poland from the Russian revolutionary movement.

Predicts Jap-American War.

The Novoe Vremya, which is the only newspaper appearing, except in dodger form, devoted a large portion of its space to an article prophesying war between Japan and the United States, and predicting a sure and speedy Japanese victory, the seizure of the Philippines and Hawaii and the occupation by the Japanese of California.

Apprehensive for Sevastopol.

Odessa, Aug. 6.—Telegraphic communication between here and Sevastopol has been interrupted for 48 hours.

There is a certain apprehension of impending events. For the first time in two weeks Cossacks appeared in town Saturday night, forming double guards at the residences of the governor, the prefects and the commandants and at public buildings.

Persistent reports are in circulation concerning conditions at the garrison.

The French consul here has been instructed by his government, in case of necessity, to give refuge to all fugitives, irrespective of nationality.

Approve Strike at Uzkova.

Uzkova, Aug. 6.—In spite of the proclamation of the governor general to take "extraordinary measures" in case the workmen still laboring in the mines should cease work, the summons from St. Petersburg to a general strike has met with the approbation of workmen here. The postal, telegraph and telephone employees expressed to the press their willingness to strike and even an officer of Cossacks said he viewed the strike with satisfaction.

Workmen in the Monagova pits to the number of 2,500 went on strike Sunday after Cossacks had broken up their meeting and whipped three of the resisting miners to death.

The emperor's manifesto dissolving the lower house of parliament was posted here Sunday.

FIGHT FATAL STREET DUEL

YOUTH AND MERCHANT IN DEADLY ENCOUNTER.

Elder Man Accused Opponent of Assaulting His Daughter and Threatened to Shoot Him on Sight.

Springfield, Mo., Aug. 6.—In the streets of Chadwick, a small town 30 miles south of Springfield, Sunday, Charles Freeman, a merchant, and Robert Keene, 18 years old, fought a duel to the death with revolvers.

Suit recently was brought by Freeman against Keene charging the latter with assaulting his 15-year-old daughter.

Freeman was reported to have threatened to shoot Keene on sight and both went armed. When they met on the street the two men immediately drew their revolvers and began firing.

Freeman was shot twice, one bullet penetrating the forehead and another in the region of the heart. Keene was shot three times, one bullet striking him in the heart. Both men were dead when the spectators reached them.

Freeman leaves a widow and several children. He was well-to-do, being the proprietor of stores at Chadwick and Garrison, Mo.

Keene was the son of Thomas Keene, a wealthy farmer living near Chadwick.

REPORT ON DENATURED SPIRITS

Various Countries Have Processes, But None Has Reached Perfection.

Washington, Aug. 6.—In view of the recent law of congress permitting the use of alcohol in the arts and industries free of tax, the bureau of manufactures of the department of commerce and labor has collected a number of reports of United States consulates on the denaturing processes from which it appears that a similar law is in operation in Italy, France, Germany, Cuba, Belgium and other countries. Each of the countries named has its own particular process of denaturation.

Of particular interest is the report of Consul General Robert P. Skinner of Marseilles, who says that the last word in regard to the industrial uses of alcohol has not yet been said, nor does he anticipate that American expectations in regard to the general practicability of this fuel as a motive force are going to be at once realized.

So imperfect does the French government regard the methods now in use for rendering alcohol unfit for consumption or of utilizing it as an illuminant, that prizes have been offered to the person offering the most advantageous ideas on the subject. Nevertheless, the reports in the aggregate recognize the possibilities of denatured alcohol based on the trials already given it abroad.

BOY VICTIM OF NEGRO IS DEAD

Lad Shot by Black Man Who Murdered Mother Collapses Suddenly.

Washington, Pa., Aug. 6.—Robert Edward Pearce, three years old, who was shot by the negro, Elmer Dempster, July 29, died Sunday of hemorrhages, caused by the bullet wound. The child was wounded at the time Dempster killed Mrs. Pearce and two others of her children.

Though in a critical condition Robert was thought to be recovering from the wound until Sunday, when he suddenly became worse and died.

Dempster, who is in jail here, when told of the death of his fourth victim, manifested no interest in the case.

The death of the child has rekindled the bitter feeling against the negro in the neighborhood of the Pearce home, but there is no fear of violence felt by the jail officials.

WIFE OF THOMAS LAWSON DEAD

Spouse of Boston Financier Succumbs to Attack of Heart Disease.

Scituate, Mass., Aug. 6.—Mrs. Thomas W. Lawson, wife of the Boston financier, died at Dreamworld, Mr. Lawson's summer home here Sunday. Mrs. Lawson has been suffering from heart disease for several months. With the exception of her son, Arnold, all of Mrs. Lawson's children and her husband were at her bedside when the end came. Arnold arrived home shortly afterward.

Bryan Family at Venice.

Venice, Aug. 6.—William J. Bryan, Mrs. Bryan, Miss Grace Bryan, Col. Moses C. Wetmore, of St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Dunlap and their daughter, of Jacksonville, spent Saturday here sightseeing. They were interested especially in the work of restoring the Campanile at St. Marks.

ASK RIVER STATES TO SEND DELEGATES

ANNUAL MEET OF TRANS-MISSISSIPPI
SIPPI CONGRESS.

SESSION OF IMPORTANCE

Many Questions of Moment to Be Discussed at Kansas City, Including Panama Canal Affairs and General Transportation.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 6.—The official call for the seventeenth annual session of the trans-Mississippi Commercial congress to meet in Kansas City, Mo., November 20, 21, 22 and 23 next was issued here Sunday by the executive committee. The congress promises to be the most important since its organization. Many great questions are to be considered.

Need of Concerted Action.

In issuing this call, the executive committee directs attention to the necessity for some concerted action on the great question affecting navigation upon the rivers of the trans-Mississippi states. In various sections of the trans-Mississippi region there are many natural waterways which only need government aid to make them commercial factors in the upbuilding of the states to which they are tributary. Therefore, the executive committee places the subject of river navigation upon the programme as a question of great importance, trusting that the commercial bodies of the entire trans-Mississippi region send effective delegations to participate in the discussion and help the congress to a wise conclusion.

Effect of Reclamation.

Under the reclamation act millions of acres of arable land in the trans-Mississippi country are in process of reclamation, involving the equally important question of immigration for these lands. The executive committee is therefore required to bring this question before the trans-Mississippi congress together with the fact that the additional territory thus put under cultivation adds enormously to the business of the great cities of the middle west outside the irrigated region.

Inasmuch as recent agitation, both at home and abroad, has had an effect detrimental to the live stock interests of the trans-Mississippi states, the executive committee has placed this subject upon the programme with the hope that out of a multiplicity of counsel some right conclusions may be reached beneficial to this most important branch of western industry.

The marked progress made by President Roosevelt and the national congress toward the construction of a canal across the isthmus of Panama, has again been brought to the attention of the trans-Mississippi congress. The benefits that will accrue to the region west of the Mississippi river by the conclusion of this international waterway appeal with peculiar force to the people of the trans-Mississippi states, and it is proper that the delegates to the trans-Mississippi Commercial congress be afforded an opportunity to express their views upon this subject.

Good Roads Are Needed.

Commercial activity is greatly retarded by the lack of transportation facilities. Chief among the evils in this respect is bad roads. Any movement that has for its purpose the improvement of the public highways should be encouraged, thereby fostering a public sentiment in various states and territories that will ultimately create a perfect system of good roads throughout the trans-Mississippi region and enhance materially the bulk and value of our commerce between the states.

Requests are made that the subject "a department of mines and mining with its head a member of the cabinet of the United States" be placed upon the programme.

Matters of Discussion.

Other subjects upon which discussion and recommendation may be had are as follows: Flood control, harbor improvement, merchant marine, oriental trade, Alaska, Columbia river, irrigation, forestry, San Francisco, naval construction on the Pacific coast, trusts and their relation to business, government ownership of railroads, telegraph lines and public utilities generally, levee systems in Texas and Louisiana, Pan-American commercial union, drainage of public lands, statehood, deep water from the lakes to the gulf.

SISTERS AND TEACHER DROWN

Girls Give Up Life in Vain Attempt to Rescue Woman From Death.

Marshfield, Ore., Aug. 6.—Miss Galbraith, a school teacher, and the Misses Hilda and Margaret Sawyer, were drowned in the South Coos river near Allogheny, Ore., Saturday. The young ladies were bathing and Miss Galbraith, who could not swim, got into deep water and cried for help. Miss Hilda Sawyer went to the rescue but could do nothing with the drowning girl. Then Miss Margaret Sawyer went to the assistance of the girls and gave up her life in a vain endeavor to lend them aid.

Theatrical Man Dead.

Old Orchard, Me., Aug. 6.—A. L. Grant, of Lawrence, Mass., a member of the theatrical firm of Calm & Grant, owners and lessees of theaters in various cities, died Sunday at his summer home at Grand Beach after a long illness.

VISITOR'S JUDGMENT WAS BAD

And His Comment by no Means Complimentary to Judges.

A youthful individual from a rural district, whose bucolic occupation and manner of life found visible reflection in his appearance and bearing, was a visitor the other day at the city hall, runs a story in the Washington Star. In the midday intermission of one of the courts in which he was attending a trial, this ruddy-visaged, horny-handed, unsophisticated son of the soil started over the building on a tour of investigation.

On his round he chanced to pass a room on the second floor in which some workmen were renovating several life-size portraits of eminent jurists who have graced the district bench at one time or another in the history of the local court. The grave and sedate faces of these pictures have looked down daily from their places on the wall to meet the gaze of reverent admiration from persons attending the court. At once the striking character of them impressed the youthful swain. Accosting a passing gentleman, who proved to be one of the justices of the district supreme court, the visitor asked:

"Say, mister, are these pictures of criminals?"

"No," quietly replied the judge, "they are portraits of judges who once presided here."

"Is that so?" murmured the gentleman from the rural district, surprised but unabashed, "I thought they were convicts."

Lessens Dangers of Navigation.

A Berlin scientific paper tells of a new device arranged by a Swedish scientist to reduce the danger of shallow water in navigation. It consists of a simple water kite, which is fastened to a wire cable and cast over the side of the ship. By reason of the oblique pressure, the kite sinks rapidly as far as its cable permits. On the side of the winch a scale and register tells the depths, to which the kite has descended. As soon as the kite comes in contact with any solid obstruction, or shallow bottom, a coupling is released which instantly slackens the tension of the cable by changing the position of the kite; this sets in motion an alarm bell on deck, which attracts the attention of the watch.

The Short Hose Girl.

There is one independent girl in town who has adopted a new way of trying to keep cool this summer, and all her feminine friends know it. Whether the knowledge will spread beyond her own sex is a matter of conjecture, as it would depend chiefly on the state of the wind and the girl's position at the critical moment.

"We have eliminated collars and cuffs," she declares, "and I can't see why mere men and babes should enjoy all the advantages to be derived from socks."

THE M. BUOB BREWING CO.

We do not claim that most everybody in Janesville drinks our beers—the soda fountains still seem to be doing business; but we do claim and our books will show that the particular and critical beer drinkers of Janesville and her suburbs know what an excellent brew is our "GOLDEN CROWN"—the Beer with the "just right" taste. There is a cause, the people like the effect. Our other brand, "STAR EXPORT"—enough said. ALES—Cream and Stock.

IF A

HANDFUL OF COINS SHOULD BE THROWN THROUGH YOUR WINDOW EVERY DAY

You would consider that it was worth while to hunt around until all of them were found; even the smallest of the coins. And you would consider that you were a pretty lucky person to have the opportunity to pick money up right at home. When you have

"SOME SHOPPING TO DO"

as every woman has every week of her life, and you are anxious to make your money go as far as it will, anxious to get this article for four and a half dollars instead of five, if it be possible, and to secure the next article on your list for ninety cents instead of a dollar, if that be possible, and to "cut off" a dollar here and a dime there from the probable prices, all through the list—then it is that a copy of this newspaper is equivalent to a handful of coin!

The woman who searches the STORE-ADVERTISEMENTS is merely searching for coins—for a chance to save them in her purchases—for a chance to get everything "on her list" and still bring back a few dollars saved from her appropriation THROUGH READING THE ADS. AND BUYING ACCORDINGLY.
